

New Restaurants to Try This Week: Capriotti's Sandwich Shop, El Secreto Omakase, and La Boulangerie Boul'Mich

NICOLE DANNA | JUNE 6, 2022 | 9:00AM

South Florida's latest round of openings includes a new restaurant location for Delaware-based Capriotti's Sandwich Shop, a Doral location for La Boulangerie Boul'Mich, and the grand opening of El Secreto Omakase at Miami Beach's Faena Hotel.

Paul Qui offers guests a one-on-one omakase experience at El Secreto in Miami Beach's Faena Hotel. Photo courtesy of Faena Hotel

El Secreto Omakase

3201 Collins Ave. (in the Faena Hotel), Miami Beach

786-655-5600

faena.com

Faena Hotel Miami Beach has opened a new intimate dining experience with El Secreto Omakase, a one-of-a-kind speakeasy-themed offering curated by Pao and James Beard Award-winning chef Paul Qui. Tucked behind the Faena Hotel Miami Beach's candlelit La Cava private dining room and the red velvet folds of Faena Theater, El Secreto invites guests to a six-seat bar that hosts two omakase seatings per night. The tasting menu presents the best of Tokyo-style sushi and Kyoto-style kaiseki, with highlights that include sea urchin from Hokkaido, sustainable bluefin tuna from Baja, and Sanuki Olive Wagyu from Kagawa Prefecture in Japan. The menu is complemented by a drink list of top-shelf spirits, beer, wine, cocktails, and small-batch sakes. Wednesday through Sunday, with seatings at 6:30 and 9 p.m.